

As The Sword Turns

The Official Castle Wall Productions Newsletter

Current Clack

Castle Wall had its first preseason "game" on the 31st of March, it was a win. we had about 150 8-11 year olds as an audience. Our performance went good and we were well received. We needed at least 50% of CWP active membership and we had 55%. We need to get our teams in gear for this upcoming seasons, as there is still a lot to do before our show season begins or we are ready for our show season.

I want to bid farewell to Bill Odler who left to peruse other interests at this time you will be missed. I would like to welcome Lisa Engle to our support team, and Gillian Gillette as a full time member HUZAHHHH!!!

Calls from the Turret

Its hard to believe that March has already come and gone! Now that April is here the pieces of the puzzle that is our show are coming together. And it looks like a show we will be proud of. Castle Wall would not be as strong as it is without all of you and I want to extend a thank you to everyone of you that have gone the extra mile to make are show season possible.

I know the March Mall crawl did not happen and I am working on coordinating one for end of April. The date and location will be announced later Now that summer is getting closer peoples plans for the summer which means it is an ideal time to push ticket sales for CMF.

The park is a great place to PR CWP and the shows, as we are drawing a crowd every week. On that note I want to thank everyone for their cooperation and flexibility on switching practice sites Washington park will be a great new site for CWP and in case of inclement weather we still have Logan school. We have huge things on the horizon for Castle Wall Productions thanks for your dedication.

From the Field

Hey all, Steel Elementary was a good show, but I have to tell you, our contingent of kids really outdid everyone. Emma and Alan, you really got the crowd going, and Liz and Adeeb the fight looks show ready. Thank you to all who showed, and for those of you who had your first show, welcome to the world of live productions.

The Weapons looked great, and the garments looked good also, but as you may have noticed there was not much in the way of props. For the past few weeks we have discussed getting volunteers for the different teams, well now it is time for more than just saying yes. We were not as period as we could have been for the show. Help is really needed in the next couple of months, Garments needs help producing some new outfits, and weapons needs help producing and repairing weapons. Please see the team leads if you can help, we need everyone to chip in so we can be completely ready for our next show.

We begin to get to the crunch time and will begin run-throughs in the next month. Please remember that as the attacker you are in charge of the safety of your moves. Practice makes perfect, or at least as close as we can be to that. Let's make sure that everything is done correctly and safely.

Let me say in finishing that this show opened my eyes, I have been a bit worried in feeling that the fights were not going to be ready for show, but now I see that we are getting there. I am so impressed with all of you. Keep up the good hard work and we will be ready for our first show soon!

Reports from the Lists

The trainers will be coming by making observations about everyone's fights, this will allow us to identify any problems with the fight and make adjustments accordingly. Logan (shield) and Jewel (stunts) are training to be trainers for next season and will be starting trainers activities this season.

Tales of the Anvil

OK here we go again; we need volunteers for the weapons team. We have got a lot of work ahead of us. Contact me if you want to help because we need it, and join us at the forge.

Tailors Bench.

Starting on the 13th we start dress rehearsals. Everybody should have their garb ready and be wearing it at that time. We are working on quilted gambesons to be worn under the chain to ease pressure points. We also are working on Merry Men cloaks, bloomers, guard gambesons', and tabards. If you want arming cap let me know.

Ring Time

The damaged chain from two weeks ago has been repaired. The sixth hauberk has been completed. Three of them must be lengthened. The royal armor (Prince Johns and King Richards), the pot helms and shields should be here this month. The Black Knight helmet has been repaired, and the Red Knight helmet is about to be reworked. There is still much work to be done though mostly on belts, sheathes and shields and the helmets need polishing.

From the Heralds Horn

The web site continues to be updated and refined. We have our first add sold by one of our own members Serina Keys own Spiritual Connections HUZZAHH!!! We need to push sponsorship and advertising as much as possible.

-----Eric Medved

Castle Custodian's Closet

Props lagged this month but we are making up for it this month. The stocks are being refurbished as well as the dais. We will be adding a second larger to the field to accommodate the Queen mother to. Tents need constructed and painted we will be contacting everyone about volunteering.

Wagons Wheel

The never ending quest to get the CWP vehicles legal continues, more on it when it is finally done. One note we need a place to park the truck in a semi permanent space as the city of Littleton does not like the truck at y house.

Leeches Ledger

It is getting close to summer and we are outside already. I along with the senior officers will be water Nazis this year, so make sure you have your water bottles on you and ensure you put on your sunscreen.

Merchants Booth

We got a few people last week to take tickets to sell for CMF. However to meet our goal we still need more of you to jump in and sell tickets. You have friends, family, co workers and fellow students. Lets pick up the energy and sell some! You don't have to sell a whole book every ticket counts! There is a prize for the person that sells the most tickets for CMF.
