Calls from the Turret

I'm hoping that all had good holidays. Now that we've played and we've partied and hopefully gotten what we wanted from Santa (yay!) It is time for our present from the President (Director): Our characters! Its now time to strap on the boots kids. The important thing to remember now is that we've all made a commitment to these characters. The most important part of that commitment is being present at practices, present at team meetings, and learning about the character. Remember: you are not alone. There are many helping hands so if you get stuck in this grab one. We all want this to be the best year it can possibly be. First and foremost HAVE FUN! I'm looking forward to working with all of you this year.

-----Badger

From the Field

Reports from the List

Training is and has been going well, for the old and the new members alike. We're catching the new members up quickly and, more importantly, efficiently. Certifications were started last week and we swept through many. It's good to see all the work we put you through shows up so well. And please, if you have ANY questions at all about ANY weapon ask any of the trainers, me, the VPO, VP, or the President. If you need to go over any re-training' before certifications, pull one of the trainers aside and have them put you through a quick run. We want you to feel comfortable while using the weapons, as well as safe. With that said, practice, practice, and practice.

-----Bethany Medved

From the Anvil

Hey all, Logan here to give you a status report on weapons. I want to personally thank Badger, Rod, Adriel, and Tracy for busting their asses yesterday trying to finish this warehouse. Unfortunately we did not get done but we are so close to being done. Once we finish this we will be one step closer to our goal of getting our weapons. I also want to thank Lenn and Charles for letting us use their scaffolding, it helped a bunch. So until we get this warehouse finished weapons are at a stand still. So that's it for weapons, no further information as of now. I will keep you updated as things unfold and if you would like to join the weapons team let me know.
